

Letters to the Editor

Feb. 23 - I really like the vegetarian writer. Also, the young person that wrote about meditation and stress sounds like me as a kid. My stomach always hurt. Neat stories, thanks for sharing.

Susanna, Littleton, Colorado

Feb. 23 - Great idea with some fabulous writing! YES! Lorynda Sampson, M.Ed., 2003 Colorado Teacher of the Year

Develop a passion for learning. If you do, you will never cease to grow.

-Anthony J. D'Angelo, The College Blue Book

Feb. 23 - The website is amazing. I love it and seeing all of the things people wrote is amazing! Good job. Martial Arts Instructor, Longmont

Feb.23 - That's a nice, clean, easy-to-navigate website. Lindsay, Writer & Editor, Littleton, Colorado

Feb. 27 - Those young folks do you proud! Strong writing and such a variety of styles—journalistic, personal essays, poetry. `Way cool! Congratulations to all.

Amanda, Publisher & poet

Feb. 27 - I took a look and I like it! Great job! Michelle Bowman, Manager of Longmont United Hospital's Department of Complementary Care.

Feb. 28 - Thanks for sending the website link. I spent a little time looking through it. Looks well planned, with room for new ideas and space to grow. It's great for the kids to see their writing in print! Christine, ESL & writing teacher, Missoula, MT.

March 3 - I enjoyed the reflections of the young ones so much that I copied them so that I can read them when I feel stressed. The young ones are so knowledgeable and show so much compassion. I am proud to be a part of Health Quest. I look forward to the Mondays that we meet. Sincerely Barbara Corsale

March 10 - Dear Mrs. Bartlett, Health Quest was a new experience for me. I think that I joined for the wrong reason but found something informative in the class that I walked away with. I made friends and tried new things. Acupuncture was a new and unusual experience. As my classmates and I walked into class that day we were all scared out of our minds. The most important thing I would like to say is not to be afraid to try different things. You might find them interesting. Kurtis, HQ Alumnus.

March 16 - I am so impressed with the writing and the sophisticated thoughts that have gone into the pieces I have had time to read. As an artist, I was so interested in the article Hannah Zielinski wrote on Elision The Writer's Greatest Gift. My sister, Kate Doyle, who is a poet and author of a book, "The River that Binds Us", and I have been talking about offering a workshop integrating writing and visual arts. We hope to do it in the fall and wonder if Hannah would like to join us when we get it organized. It is in the "talking about" stage, and we'd like her input and having her youthful energy would be great! I wonder if it would be something that other young people would enjoy. Thanks for sending me the articles. Good work! Let me know how I can help. Sally, Longmont, Colorado

March 16 - Nice picture in the classroom and bio on the guest speakers page. Cute kids. Well done web design. Lisa, Longmont, Colorado

March 16 - The website looks great. Kit has done a fantastic job. Looks more professional than most corporate businesses. Everything about it is fantastic. Please tell the kids how proud I am of them. A big congrats! Hope to see you and them soon.

peace, Luke (Dr. Brian Luke Seaward, Longmont, Colorado)

March 16 - Took a quick peek at the site--SPECTACULAR!!! Will peruse more when I have time. Peggy, Longmont, Colorado

March 17 - The kids enjoyed this so much! Thank you for sharing with us!

Kathy, and her three boys, Andrew, Michael, & Richard

March 17 - The green looks VERY refreshing and vibrant--nice image to convey, unless folks get bored very easily. Wow, indeed! Looking good.

Peggy, Longmont

March 22 - The new articles are really fine. Those eighth graders are writing more skillfully with each issue. Congratulations to you all! Amanda

March 23 - I went to the Health Quest website. It's impressive. I read several of the articles by students ... they were well-written. I read the articles by Jordan Hale and Jennifer Rasmussen about life gardening and was struck by how creative they were with the material. ... The scrapbook was a favorite because it shows photos of the Critters. ~Jim Downton
